

Participation

A team wins or loses together. If one member of the team doesn't participate, the team can't do its best. The same is true for citizens.

Information

Democracy is like going to school. Students — or citizens — have to keep learning all the time. Citizens read the newspaper and watch the news on television, so that they have the information they need.

Hard Choices

What happens when you and your friends disagree? How do you decide?

Deliberation

We all have our own ideas ... and lots of times we disagree with each other. Deliberation means talking over our differences and trying to find a way we can proceed together.
